A Note From Our Lead Pastor

“While the son was still a long way off, his father saw him and was filled with compassion. He ran, threw his arms around his neck, and kissed him.”
-Luke 15:20b
You often hear me talk about repentance, turning from our sin and returning to the Lord. But at times, I think we fail to remember, just who this God is to whom we are returning. Many of us have encountered times in our lives where we needed to reconcile, and to do so, admit we were wrong. It’s a hard step to take, but a necessary one if we want to live in relationship with one another. Sometimes even though we are admitting our wrong, we are met with judgment and “I told you so’s.” But that’s not how scripture describes our heavenly Father. He is not waiting at home so he can beat us up for what we’ve done, he’s waiting with great anticipation because He longs to welcome us back. Even while we were still a long way off, God ran to us in the person of Jesus Christ.

So, as we focus on this season of Who’s Your One, intentionally seeking to take the good news to those who are far from God, let’s remind both them and us that God longs for wayward sons and daughters to come home. He runs to us; He throws His arms around us and calls us His own. Or as the Apostle Paul puts it, “There is now no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus.”
Hallelujah and amen!

A Note From Our Music & Children’s Pastor

WORSHIP MINISTRY

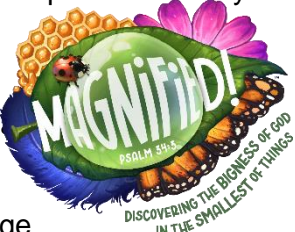

This is from an article written by Mark Condon. I want to share with you while this applies to all aspects of our worship ministry choir, instrumentalist, and audio/video. If you are looking to serve in one of the most vital ministries of our church, the Worship Ministry is the place to serve.

“Do We Still Need Choirs? I am asked almost every week in my travels about choirs vs. praise teams. Is choir still relevant? Should we keep working to make this happen? Are we behind-the-times by having a choir? My answer in short is YES, we still need choirs!!!! Keep working for these reasons.

- 1. Although I admit keeping people committed can be a challenge, it is a healthy way to involve many people in your church where they would possibly just sit and become unengaged and not have a place to belong.
- 2. There is nothing like a full choir loft with an army of worshipers leading your church in passionate worship. It just speaks loud to every guest that this church has a lot of very committed people who love to worship!
- 3. It teaches the power of teamwork with your people. It is amazing what average singers can do when they rehearse and work together and bring harmony. There are many lessons learned here.
- 4. In many churches I believe it reveals the health of the church. People who are involved in choir are often some of the most committed to that congregation. They seem to hold many hats in other areas of the church. When they slack in their attendance it is often a great thermometer of where their heart and passion is in relationship with God. Yes, it’s just easier to let other people do the work.
- 5. A great choir will attract and influence new people to your church. “...If I be lifted up...I will draw...” A great choir and worship department is often the leading reason people initially enjoy your church and want to come back.
- 6. It is a great place for fellowship and discipleship. It builds relationships and solidifies people. It is basically a “small group.”
- 7. A full choir loft creates energy in your services and ministers to everyone and we know that energy is...contagious!
- 8. There are so many songs with such POWERFUL life changing messages that can only be delivered through an anointed choir.
- 9. It builds character to be faithful, accountable and future leaders in other areas of the church. (one of my most faithful choir members now pastors Turnpoint. He proved for years his heart, his passion and his strong leadership. Now, I work for him.)
- 10. Once you get there and get the song learned it is enjoyable and fulfilling to bless others!”

CHILDREN’S MINISTRY

It is hard to believe that we are already making plans and getting things together for Vacation Bible School! This is one of the most important ministry opportunities that we have on our calendar each year so please start praying for our teachers, leaders, volunteers, children. This is also a great time to make your plans to serve in VBS no matter your age or physical limitations. Vacation Bible School is June 23-27, 6-8:30PM. Our annual VBS training will be Sunday, April 27 at 5PM so mark your calendars. This training is for everyone who wants to help in VBS from teachers to helpers to get an overview of VBS and goals.
